

Design System

Creation from scratch, together with some teams and squads, a design system escalable to multiple brands in a pyramidal way. Where the foundations are on the top, and components, widgets and templates below inheriting the properties respectively. During the last year and a half I have been designing all the components and general templates for all the pages including: search page, accommodation page and booking steps.

Although Design system is a UI hypothesis-based improvement for a old-fashioned site, is the basis for continuing testing every single component.
